RUSSIAN REVOLUTIONARY CALENDAR

1789-94. The French Revolution.

1812. Napoleon's invasion of Russia and defeat. Described in Tolstoy's War and Peace (1869).

1825. The Decembrist Revolt against Tsarism.

1848. The Communist Manifesto by Marx and Engels appears on the eve of European revolution.

1861. Tsar Alexander II abolishes serfdom. Rise of Narodism - or 'peasant socialism' among radical intelligentsia.

1862-63. Formation of Narodnik underground movement Zemlya i Volya inspired by Chernyshevsky.

1864. The First International founded in London by Marx and others.

1869. Nechayev, Narodnik disciple of the anarchist Bakunin, prescribes terrorism.

1870. Birth of Lenin. Franco-Prussian War. Marx forecasts the Russian revolution.

1871. The Paris Commune.

1872. End of the First International in Europe. Russian translation of Marx's Capital. Dostoyevsky's The Possessed.

1874. The Narodnik "going to the people" movement suppressed by the Tsarist police.

1875-82. Period of Narodnik terrorism influenced by Tkachev and Nechayev's theories of a conspiratorial party.

1879. Zemlya i Volya party splits into factions: terrorist (Narodnaya Volya) and agitator (Chorny Peredel) led by Plekhanov. Birth of Trotsky and Stalin.

1881. Tsar Alexander II assassinated by Narodovoltsi.

1883. Formation in Switzerland by former Chorny Peredel-ists of first Russian Social-Democratic Marxist group.

1887. Execution of Lenin's elder brother

Alexander and fellow Narodovoltsi conspirators.

1889. Founding congress in Paris of the Second Socialist International. Plekhanov represents Russian Marxist Social-Democracy.

1891-93. Famine, revival of Narodnik populism, mass strikes and massacres of workers. Lenin's first Marxist criticism of Narodism.

1894. Tsarist censorship allows 'Legal' Marxism. Lenin's public activity begins.

1895. Tsar Nicholas II begins his reign with massacre of strikers at Yaroslavl. Lenin's activity as factory organizer cut short by arrest and exile to Siberia till 1900.

1898. Abortive first congress of Russian Social-Democratic Labour Party (RSDLP) in Minsk.

1899. Lenin in exile attacks Social-Democratic reformism.

1900. Foundation of newspaper Iskra by Lenin, Plekhanov and others in Geneva. Lenin directs the spread of underground party network in Russia.

1901. Veteran Narodniks, Gots, Chernov and others, form Socialist-Revolutionary Party (SR) engaged in terrorism.

1903. Second Congress of the RSDLP in Brussels and London ends with the Bolshevik-Menshevik split. Lenin resigns from Iskra.

1904. Lenin's new paper Vperyod. Re-organization of Bolshevik party in Russia. Russo-Japanese War. Plehve assassinated by an SR. Baku oil-workers strike.

1905. Bloody Sunday, general strike and the first Russian Revolution. Formations of workers' Soviets in Petersburg, Moscow, etc. and the liberal bourgeois Kadet party. Tsarism regains control but concedes a Duma (parliament).

Russian dates before January 31, 1918 follow the old style (Julian) calendar. Subsequent dates follow the new style (Gregorian) calendar, which took effect in February, 1918.

1906. Duma elections. Fourth RSDLP unity congress in Stockholm. Stolypin dissolves the first Duma in July.

1907. Fifth RSDLP congress. Stolypin arrests Social-Democrat deputies and dissolves the second Duma in June. Third Duma opens in November. Lenin leaves Russia — till 1917.

1908-10. The 'Duma Question' causes more factional splits within the RSDLP. Lenin's struggle against Bolshevik anti-Duma fraction.

1912. Prague conference of the Bolshevik party decides to take part in the fourth Duma elections. Legal party paper Pravda organized. Massacre of striking workers at Lena Gold Mines.

1914. Outbreak of the First World War. Collapse of the Second International into national 'defensists', pacifists and international 'defeatists'.

1915. Lenin's strategy of revolutionary defeatism rejected by first anti-war Zimmerwald conference.

1916. Lenin's position gains support on the International Left. Strikes in Russia increase. Rasputin murdered.

1917. The February Revolution: the Tsar is overthrown. Dual Power 'shared' between Petrograd Soviet and the bourgeois Provisional Government.

February — October: Menshevik and SR leaders of the Soviet support the Provisional government and accept ministerial posts.

April: Lenin returns to Russia. Struggle against Dual Power begins.

May: Kerensky, an ex-SR, heads Provisional Government.

June: Kerensky pursues war against Germany.

July: popular pro-Soviet uprising fails. Counter-revolutionary measures by SR, Menshevik and Provisional Government leadership. Bolshevik party persecuted. Lenin in hiding.

August: Kerensky toys with military dictatorship.

September: Bolsheviks gain majorities in Petrograd and Moscow Soviets.

The October revolution: Lenin leads Bolsheviks to power. Provisional Government put under arrest. Bolsheviks organize Soviet government.

December: peace negotiations with Germany at Brest-Litovsk.

1918. January: Third Congress of Soviets approves dispersal of Constituent Assembly. Germans help form counter-revolutionary 'White' forces in Ukraine. Factory Councils approve Bolshevik party's central management of the economy.

February: Germans occupy key territories and threaten Petrograd.

March: approval of Brest-Litovsk Peace Treaty despite strong Left Communist opposition.

1918-1920. Civil War: struggle against White and Allied forces. War Communism.

1919. Third Communist International founded. General defeat of revolutions outside Russia.

1920-21. Famine, anti-Bolshevik agitation, strikes and peasant unrest. Inner-Party debates led by Left Communists on trade unions, worker-management, expropriation, etc.

1921. March: Kronstadt uprising. At the Tenth Party Congress Lenin launches the New Economic Policy, a limited free market and an end to War Communism.

1922. Genoa and Rapallo conferences establish trade with non-Communist countries. Lenin's first stroke — regular work ceases. Lenin's 'last struggle' against bureaucratism and chauvinism, calls for cultural revolution, foresees dangers of Stalinist authoritarianism.

1924. Lenin dies.

LENIN'S 'GREAT QUESTION'

A REVOLUTIONARY PARTY
AS THE ORGANIZED
EXPRESSION OF COLLECTIVE ACTION...
THAT WAS LENIN'S
STRATEGY AND THE
POLITICAL
MARXISM.

Antonio Gramsci (1891-1937)
Marxist philosopher, a founder of the Italian Communist Party and organizer of factory soviets in Turin 1919-21.

NOT ONE MAN BUT MILLIONS OF PEOPLE MADE THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION. LENIN REMAINS THE GREATEST MARXIST TACTICIAN BECAUSE HE UNDERSTOOD THIS.

In 1894, when Lenin was only 24, the revolution seemed pretty remote. Was Lenin a dreamer or a practical Marxist when he asked . . .

... how must actions aimed at bringing about the socialist system attract the masses in order to yield serious RESULTS?

... the answer to this question depends directly and immediately on the way in which the grouping of social forces in Russia and the class struggle which forms the substance of Russian reality are understood.

The Tsar's 'wedding-cake' is a cartoon depicting social injustice circa 1890. But the Russian class struggle, as Lenin understood it through Marx, was a lot more complex.

TSARISM IS FEUDALISM

THE STATE IS IDENTIFIED WITH RUSSIA'S ABSOLUTE ALL POWERFUL MONARCH, THE TSAR...
(OR CZAR-IT MEANS 'CAESAR')

TSAR NICHOLAS II (1868-1918)

But where does the "absolute power" of the Tsar come from? Since 1613, the Romanov Tsars depend on the power of the feudal system, i.e., a small noble class which owns both the land and peasant-serfs* ... (*serf, Latin servus=slave)

...LANDLORDS COUNT THEIR WEALTH IN THE NUMBER OF 'SOULS' THEY OWN!

Who administers the State?

The territory of the Tsarist Empire was HUGE, containing peoples of many different races and languages (or 1/10 of the human race by 1870!)

...THAT'S WHY I'M SETTING UP
MY CHINOVNIK SYSTEM!

The 'modernizing' Tsar, Peter the Great, in 1722 set up a career-ladder in the civil service (with 14 rungs corresponding to noble and military ranks). Chinovnik: in Russian chin means 'rank' or 'rung of a ladder'. Chinovniki were bureaucrats: life-time servants of the state.

...AND SOME ROSE
FROM POVERTY TO JOIN
THE RANKS OF THE HEREDITARY

YES... BUT ONLY SOME!
...AND WHAT'S MORE,
THE SYSTEM
CREATED AN
'CLIMBERS' TOTALLY
CUT OFF FROM
THE MASS OF THE PEOPLE!

Vast peasant uprisings did occur: famous ones, led by Stenka Razin in the 17th century . . . and Emelyan Pugachev in 1773.

On 26th Dec. 1825, army officers inspired by the Jacobin ideals of the French revolution tried to overthrow Tsar Nicholas I. The Decembrist revolt lasted one day!

The Decembrists were not the last upper-class mavericks who asked the great question of the 19th Century . . .

HOW DO WE RE-JOIN
THE PEOPLE?

COUNT LEO TOLSTOY

NOVELIST PREACHED NON-VIOLENT POPULISM... BUT OTHERS WERE A LOT MORE
REVOLUTIONARY!

ATHEIST!

The 1861 Reform

Russia's defeat in the Crimean War (1853-56) led to famine and unrest in the countryside. Tsarism faces its own big question: how can the Tsar keep the loyalty of his million-strong army which is 90% serf?

BY A CLEVER MOVE... THE TSAR ABOLISHES SERFDOM IN 1861!

The peasants are 'free' but saddled with redemption payments (mortgages and taxes) because the Tsar has to compensate the ex-serf-owners (who keep most of the land anyway!) The peasants blame the landlords and officials who collect the taxes, not the Tsar, rodnoi otets ('our little father') who set them free.

WHAT'S BEHIND THE 1861 REFORM ?

After 1861 capitalism developed in Russia — rapidly that in a few decades it brought about a transformation which had taken centuries in — of the old countries of Europe.

...The rapid development of capitalism...

The mixture of capitalist enterprise, feudalism and aristocratic privilege was strange and contradictory. It produced typical 'chinovnik' capitalists like Count S.Y. Witte (1849-1915) who began as a railway manager, rose to Minister of Finance and Economy, gained the title of 'Count.' He put Russia on the Gold Standard, set up banks, foreign loans, etc.

Historians tell ■ how well capitalism ■ doing under Tsarism. But they forget to mention that Western shareholders owned 90% of Russia's mines, 50% of her chemical industry, over 40% of her engineering plants, and 42% of her banking stock. Tsarist Russia was virtually ■ colony!

THE NARODNIKS...

The Narodniks were Russia's first revolutionary socialists. The name comes from narod, 'the people', i.e. the peasants. Narodniks were radical intellectuals (also known as the Intelligentsia) who opted out of the noble and educated classes.

The theory of narodnik terrorism

1874 teaches the 'Lavrists' the need for a disciplined party ... as outlined by two other Narodnik leaders:

LAVROV IS WRONG... TO START A
POPULAR UPRISING THE GOVERNMENT HAS TO BE
DISRUPTED
FIRST...

Tkachev's 1874 letter to Lavrov's Vperyod predicted that
'Going to the People' would fail.

...BY A SMALL
CONSPIRATORIAL
PARTY OF MILITANTS!

P.N. Tkachev (1844-85) a nobleman and underground revolutionary. In exile, 1873, publishes a journal, Nabat, (The Tocsin) which advocates the seizure of power by a revolutionary minority in order to implement socialist reforms through the machinery of the state.

20 S.G. Nechayev (1847-82) a school-teacher of working class origins and terrorist who died in prison. With Bakunin he wrote The Revolutionary Catechism.

In 1878 Vera Zasulich (1851-1919) shot and wounded Governor Trepov of St. Petersburg who ordered the flogging of a Narodnik student. The court acquitted her, and friends smuggled her abroad before the police could arrest her again.

The Narodniks' political aims were not extreme — land for the people, unions, a parliament, a republic. But they turned to terrorism as the only weapon they had to achieve even the most basic democratic reforms.

At a secret party congress in 1879, the question of tactics splits Zemlya i Volya into two factions. The Narodnaya Volya (people's Freedom or Will) applies terrorism against government officials and even the Tsar.

Sofia Perovskaya (1853-81) daughter of a Tsarist general began as a teacher in a workers' study group. A.I. Zhelyabov (1850-81) came from an ex-serf family. S.N. Khalturin (1856-82) a carpenter and founder of the Northern Union of Russian Workers who turned to terrorism when this union failed. By 1884, arrests, exile and executions destroyed the small number of Narodovoltsi terrorists.

The other Zemlya i Volya faction is Chorny Peredel, 'Black Partition', meaning equal land distribution for the 'Black Folk', i.e. the peasants. Its leaders, the ex-mining student Plekhanov and Axelrod, reject terrorism as a weapon of political reform.

In 1883 this exiled trio founded the first Marxist Emancipation of Labour group in Switzerland. But what did Marx and Engels think of Russia?

MARX HAD A REAL SYMPATHY FOR THE NARODNIKS...

HMMM... FUNNY PLACE RUSSIA.
MAYBE IT CAN AVOID CAPITALISM
THERE IS MORE THAN ONE ROAD TO SOCIALISM...

Marx and Engels were in touch with three generations of Russian revolutionaries. Bakunin's translation of the Communist Manifesto was printed by Herzen's Kolokol. Narodniks like Chernyshevsky impressed Marx and he (and Engels) learned Russian. Marx even wanted to re-write Das Kapital to include a section on Russian economy.

But relations with the Russian exiles weren't always smooth!

MARX EXPELS BAKUNIN FROM THE 1ST SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL IN 1872.

YOU PIG-HEADED
ANARCHIST!

PIG-HEADED YOURSELF...YOU...
YOU GERMAN!

...AND I DIDN'T
EVEN LIKE
HERR MARX!

In 1882 Marx and Engels added a preface to Plekhanov's new translation of the Communist Manifesto:

"If the Russian Revolution becomes the signal for a proletarian revolution in the West, so that both complement each other, the present Russian common ownership of land (obshchina) may be the starting point for a communist development."

But after Marx's death (1883), Engels became impatient with Narodniks' peasant socialism.

WHAT DID ENGELS MEAN?

1st 'the people' isn't like yeast which will rise in a single mass . . .
2nd they thought they could 'skip over' capitalism – but capitalism was already there!

Every major revolution in western history (till 1917) has been bourgeois . . .
the English (1642-49), American (1776), French (1789), and German (1849) . . .

I THOUGHT THE BOURGEOISIE INCREASED CAPITALISM?!

THAT'S TRUE. BUT CAPITALISM
SWEEPS AWAY FEUDALISM, AND BOURGEOIS DEMOCRATIC
STRUGGLE ACTUALLY BENEFITS
THE PROLETARIAT...

a bourgeois revolution always limits itself to democratic transformations which are of advantage to the bourgeoisie itself.

THAT'S WHY THE PROLETARIAT NEEDS A PARTY AS TOUGH AS THE NARODOVOLTSI... TO PUSH THE BOURGEOIS REVOLUTION FURTHER THAN IT LIKES TO GO!

And according to Engels the 1849 bourgeois revolution in Germany might have succeeded...

...IF THE REAL
MUSCLE HAD COME FROM PEASANTS
AND WORKERS!

...A SHORT BIOGRAPHY...

LENIN... WAS BORN VLADIMIR ILYICH ULYANOV, APRIL 10, 1870 AT SIMBIRSK (TODAY ULYANOVSK) A PROVINCIAL CAPITAL ON THE VOLGA

LENIN'S MOTHER: MARIA ALEXANDROVNA BLANK THE DAUGHTER OF A SURGEON AND LANDOWNER. SHE DIED IN 1916.

HIS FATHER; ILYA NIKOLAEVICH ULYANOV WAS... A CHINOYNIK: AN INSPECTOR OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS PROMOTED TO THE NOBLE RANK OF "CIVIL COUNCILLOR" IN 1874...

...THE ULYANOVS WERE A NORMAL, HAPPY FAMILY...

"By their social status, the founders of modern scientific socialism, Marx and Engels, themselves belonged to the bourgeois intelligentsia."

Lenin

LENIN INHERITED HIS FATHER'S TARTAR EYES, HIGH CHEEKBONES RED HAIR (AND BALDNESS)... LIKE HIS FATHER, HE ALSO DIED OF BRAIN HEMORRHAGE.

LENIN'S BROTHER ALEXANDER, BORN 1866 (NICKNAMED 'SASHA')

FROM ME, HE 'INHERITED' SOMETHING ELSE...

Sasha... The Revolutionary

VERY SERIOUS, INTELLIGENT, QUIET... HE SEEMED A MODEL STUDENT AT ST. PETERSBURG UNIVERSITY...

IN 1886 - THE YEAR OF HIS FATHER'S DEATH, - SASHA WON A GOLD MEDAL FOR HIS ZOOLOGICAL STUDY OF ANNELID WORMS...

SOME MONTHS LATER HE PAWNEED IT TO BUY DYNAMITE

WITH 5 OTHER STUDENTS HE FORMED THE TERRORIST SECTION OF THE NARODNAYA VOLYA WHICH PLANNED TO ASSASSINATE TSAR ALEXANDER III...

...THE FAMILY IN SIMBIRSK KNEW NOTHING OF THIS... INCLUDING 16 YEAR OLD 'VOLODYA' (AS LENIN WAS KNOWN).

By accident, the Petersburg police discovered the plot. Sasha was arrested, tried . . . and on May 8, 1887 he and four comrades were hanged . . .

At his trial Sasha declared: "we are encouraged to develop our intellectual powers, but we are not allowed to use them for the benefit of the people."

... A TYPICAL NARODNIK?

PARTLY... BUT HE TRIED TO COMBINE
NARODNIK BELIEFS
WITH SCIENTIFIC
MARXISM...

Just before his arrest Sasha had translated Marx's Critique of Hegel's Philosophy of Right (1844). Lenin's sister, Anna (arrested with Sasha in 1887, but later released and banished from Petersburg) reports that: "When Volodya heard this, he immediately sat down and read it!"

LENIN IN 1887...

NO ONE IS BORN A MARXIST... NOT EVEN MARX!

LENIN DIDN'T BECOME AN ACTIVE MARXIST TILL 1893. HE HAD A LOT OF THINKING TO DO FIRST...

AHA! BUT HE TURNED TO MARXISM TO REVENGE SASHA'S DEATH, RIGHT?

WRONG! MARXISM IS A SCIENCE... NOT A SCENARIO FOR A HOLLYWOOD SHOOT-OUT!..

FIRST THINGS FIRST... HE FINISHED HIS STUDIES AT SIMBIRSK AND WON A GOLD MEDAL - JUST LIKE SASHA!

WASN'T THAT COLD-BLOODED? TO KEEP ON STUDYING WHEN HIS BROTHER'S BEEN MURDERED?!

WHAT ELSE COULD VOLODYA DO? HE WAS ONLY 17...

...AND I'M SUPPOSED TO ACT AS 'HEAD' OF THE FAMILY TOO!

...AND NOT A VERY RESPECTABLE FAMILY ANYMORE...

IN AUGUST 1887, LENIN ENTERS
KAZAN UNIVERSITY TO STUDY LAW...

Banished from Kazan, Lenin is permitted to join his sister Anna at their mother's estate in Kukushkino, 30 miles away. Both are now under police supervision ... and Maria Alexandrovna arrives with the younger children to look after these two dangerous 'criminals' ...

Lenin studies hard at this time – but he keeps fit! Lenin was a fine swimmer, fancy skater, enjoyed mountain-climbing and hunting.

In the autumn of '88, he is allowed to re-enter Kazan but not the university ... the police consider him "an undesirable"

Finally in 1890 the authorities permit him to take his exams in Petersburg as an 'external' student (which means in 'quarantine'). He runs through a 4 year law course in less than a year and comes out first, 27 Nov. 1891, and still has time to translate the Communist Manifesto!

The first-ever translation of Marx's Das Kapital appears in Russian by the Narodnik economist N.F. Danielson in 1872.

Like the Narodniks, the police believe capitalism (or Marx's criticism of it) has no relevance to Russia. Narodism is the only real danger they see!

In her Memoirs, Lenin's wife-to-be describes their first encounter at a small gathering of Marxists in the spring of '94.

"Vladimir Ilyich spoke little and was more occupied in contemplating those present. People who styled themselves Marxists became uncomfortable beneath his fixed gaze ... Someone was saying - I think it was Shevlyagin - that it was very important to work in the Committee for Illiteracy. Vladimir Ilyich laughed ... "Well," he said, "if anyone wants to save the fatherland in the Committee for Illiteracy, we won't stop him."

She came from an impoverished upper class family. Her father had been suspended from the civil service for 'liberalism'. At 14 she began earning her living by teaching. In 1894 she joined the first Petersburg Marxist circle and taught at working men's evening and 'Sunday' schools.

After the 1917 Revolution she was Commissar for Adult Education. Krupskaya was always a fighter for Lenin's ideas.

"The very conditions of their lives make the workers capable of struggle and impel them to struggle. Capital collects the workers in great masses in big cities, uniting them, teaching them to act in unison. At every step the workers come face ■ face with their main enemy - the capitalist class. In combat with this enemy the worker becomes a socialist, comes to realise the necessity of a complete reconstruction of the whole of society, the complete abolition of all poverty and oppression."

LENIN BECOMES A FACTORY AGITATOR

*'VLADIMIR ILYCH WAS INTERESTED IN THE MINUTEST DETAIL
DESCRIBING THE CONDITIONS AND LIFE OF THE WORKERS...'*

I remember for example, how the material about the Thornton factory was collected. It was decided that I should send for a pupil of mine named Krolikov, a sorter in that factory, who had previously been deported from Petersburg. I was to collect from him all information according to a plan drawn up by Vladimir Ilyich. Krolikov arrived in a time fur coat he had borrowed from someone and brought a whole exercise-book full of information, which he further supplemented verbally. This data was very valuable. In fact Vladimir Ilyich fairly pounced on it. Afterwards I and Apollinaria Alexandrovna Yakubova put kerchiefs on our heads and made ourselves look like women factory-workers, and went personally to the Thornton factory-barracks, visiting both the single and married quarter. Conditions were most appalling. It was solely on the basis of material gathered in this manner that Vladimir Ilyich wrote his letters and leaflets. Examine his leaflets addressed to the working men and women of the Thornton factory. The detailed knowledge of the subject they deal with is at once apparent. And what a schooling this was for all the comrades working then!

Ferdinand Lassalle (1825-64), Marx's rival in Germany, borrowed the ■■■■■ social-democracy from French republicanism of the 1840s.

In 1875, at Gotha, Lassalle's faction and the 'Eisenachers' led by the Marxist Wilhelm Liebknecht united to form the German Social-Democratic Party.

looked up to the SDP as the great, successful 'model' . . .

LENIN FIGHTS BACK

In a hectic 2 weeks Lenin translates Kautsky's attack on Bernstein and writes his own reply, Protest by Russian Social-Democrats, August 1899. "If the economic struggle is taken as something complete in itself," Lenin wrote, "there will be nothing socialist in it. . ." Lenin's reply united many confused Social-Democrats all over Russia.

Lenin is released, Feb. 1900, and forms a troika (alliance) with 2 other exiles, Martov and Potresov. Krupskaya is stuck with another year of exile in Ufa, a town in the Urals.

Lenin has a plan to start an All-Party underground newspaper, ISKRA. Lenin crosses the Russian frontier, July 1900.

ISKRA...

LENIN TAKES THE NAME FROM THE DECEMBRIST SLOGAN:

"OUT OF THIS SPARK
(ISKRA) SHALL SPRING THE FLAME!"

BUT...THE FIRST
EDITORIAL MEETING IN GENEVA,
AUGUST 1900
NEARLY ENDS IN DISASTER...

THE SPARK WAS NEARLY EXTINGUISHED!

A PRETTY
POOR START!

TO BREAK THE
THE DEADLOCK
PLEKHANOV SHOULD HAVE TWO VOTES...

Plekhanov, the "father of Russian Marxism", disagrees about tactics. He is suspicious (and a little jealous) of the younger generation. During his long exile, he has lost touch with the mass labour movement developing in Russia.

WHAT'S SO IMPORTANT ABOUT A NEWSPAPER?

Lenin remained in control of Iskra. He got round Plekhanov's extra vote by setting up in Munich. Lenin was determined to go ahead with an extraordinary plan: Iskra must serve to create a Party!

ISKRA DISTRIBUTION = PARTY WORK!

THE TOUGH UNDERCOVER 'AGENTS' WHO SMUGGLE ISKRA INTO RUSSIA ARE PERSONALLY INSTRUCTED BY LENIN TO ORGANIZE AND COORDINATE AN UNDERGROUND PARTY NETWORK IN THE FACTORIES, SOCIAL-DEMOCRATIC LOCAL COMMITTEE STUDY CIRCLES ETC, ETC, ALL OVER RUSSIA...

BUT RUSSIA IS BIG, TSARISM IS POWERFUL

The first issue of Iskra appears, December 1900, with the secret help of German Social-Democrats. Copies were smuggled into Russia inside shoes, books, toys, ladies corsets, waistcoats etc . . . But the police are alert . . .

...PERHAPS ONLY
ONE-TENTH OF ANY

strator of Iskra.

BUT EVEN A SINGLE COPY
COULD BE REPRODUCED BY SECRET PRINTING PRESSES AND DISTRIBUTED LOCALLY!

like the famous illegal Baku press in the Caucasus which re-printed Iskra by the thousands!

FOR THE FIRST TIME, A LEADER IN EXILE REALLY WORKS
TOGETHER WITH SCATTERED REVOLUTIONARIES BACK HOME.
THAT'S THE IMPORTANCE OF ISKRA AS THE "BACKBONE OF MILITANT PARTY ORGANIZATION!"

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

'GIVE US AN ORGANIZATION
OF REVOLUTIONARIES, AND WE WILL OVERTURN RUSSIA!'

LENIN SPELS OUT HIS IDEAS ON PARTY ORGANIZATION IN ISKRA
ARTICLES AND IN AN IMPORTANT
BOOK: WHAT IS TO BE DONE?, 1902

THE SAME TITLE AS CHERNYSHEVSKY'S FAMOUS NARODNIK NOVEL (WRITTEN IN PRISON, 1863.)

... I maintain (1) that no revolutionary movement can be durable without a stable organization of leaders which preserves continuity; (2) that the broader the mass which is spontaneously drawn into the struggle ... the more urgent is the necessity for such ■ organization ... because the broader the mass, the easier it ■ for any demagogue to attract the backward sections of the mass; (3) that such an organization must consist mainly of people who are professionally engaged in revolutionary activities; (4) that, in an autocratic country, the more we narrow the membership of such an organization ... the more difficult will it be to 'catch' such an organization; and (5) the wider will be the category of people, both from the working class and from other classes of society, who will have an opportunity of participating in the movement and actively working in it.

...in WHAT IS TO BE DONE ? Lenin argues:

... the working class exclusively by its efforts is able to develop only trade-union consciousness ... Class political consciousness can be brought to the workers only from without, that is, only from outside the economic struggle, from outside the sphere of relations between workers and employers.

BUT BY 1903 WORKERS WERE THE LEADING FORCE AGAINST TSARISM!

MASS STRIKES ALL ACROSS THE UKRAINE, AND TRANSCAUCASIA, VIOLENT CLASHES WITH THE POLICE AND COSSACK TROOPS, BARRICADES IN MOSCOW

WORKERS THEMSELVES HAVE SMASHED "PEACEFUL ECONOMISM" INTO PIECES!

DOESN'T LENIN CONTRADICT HIMSELF?

... IN FACT, WHAT IS TO BE DONE? IS DIRECTED MAINLY AGAINST A CONFUSED AND DIVIDED INTELLIGENTSIA. IT'S TRUE, LENIN SAYS SCIENTIFIC SOCIALISM "CAME OUT OF THE HEADS" OF INTELLECTUALS LIKE MARX AND ENGELS... BUT...

1 ... an organization of full-time professional revolutionaries must erase any distinction between workers and intellectuals.

2 I'm not saying the professionals will "think for everyone" ... because professional revolutionaries will come from the masses in ever-increasing numbers!

Lenin's strategy

During this period of mass strike activity, the majority of local Social-Democratic committees in Russia ■■ fused into the Iskra network.

Constant visits from escaped prisoners, exiles, and hundreds of letters from workers, keep Lenin well-informed.

A 'young eagle' escaped from Siberia visits Lenin in London: Lev Davidovich Bronstein, from a family of Jewish farmers in the Ukraine, union organizer in Odessa, and nicknamed Pero ('The Pen'). He is better known today as . . .

TROTSKY (1879-1940)

69 Lenin wants to place the young 'Pen' ■■ the Iskra board, but Plekhanov won't have it!

Preparations begin in 1902 for an All-Party Congress. Iskra calls on leading S-D exiles in Europe, agents and revolutionaries in Russia to establish a united Party with a single programme and constitution.

Lenin is the real organizer, working flat out on reports, resolutions, speeches, leaving nothing to chance.

1903: THE 2nd CONGRESS OF THE RUSSIAN SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC LABOUR PARTY

The '2nd' in honour of the abortive 1898 Minsk Congress. Veteran exiles, like Plekhanov and Zasulich, have waited 20 years for this! With tears in their eyes, the delegates sing THE INTERNATIONAL.

The first of 37 sessions opens July 17, 1903, in a Brussels warehouse infested with lice and rats. Plagued by spies, harassed by Belgian and Russian police, the Congress moves to London in August.

Iskra's leadership seems guaranteed. Out of 51 votes, Lenin has secured 33 for Iskra, thanks to careful preparation.

Iskra's chief rival, the 'economist' paper Rabochee Dyelo (Worker's Cause) has only 3.

“ The Jewish Bund has 5, and 6 remain unaligned . . .

Everything goes well — until the 22nd session. Discussion opens on definition of Party membership, Paragraph I of the Party Rules.

LENIN PROPOSES THAT...

... ■ Party member accepts the Party Programme, supports the Party financially and must belong to one of its organizations. ...

MARTOV PROPOSES THE SAME...EXCEPT:

... a member need not belong to a Party organization but can work under the direction of one of them ...

TROTSKY SUPPORTS MARTOV...PLEKHANOV DEFENDS LENIN.

Lenin was repeating what he had already said in 1902 in his What Is To Be Done? that the Party, ■ the vanguard of the proletariat, should be as organized as possible.

But Lenin is outvoted 28 to 23. Martov's majority includes Economists and Bundists.

WHAT ABOUT PLEKHANOV?

...IT'S ONLY LOGICAL TO ARGUE THAT DISCIPLINE MUST BE ACCEPTED BY EVERYONE IN THE PARTY, LEADERS AND MEMBERS...

Before the Congress he drafted a party programme which replaced Marx's "dictatorship of the proletariat" with a weaker "power of the proletariat". Lenin made him put it back ... but now Plekhanov defends Lenin!

"EVERY PARTY MEMBER IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PARTY... AND THE PARTY IS RESPONSIBLE FOR EVERYONE OF ITS MEMBERS"

SO... WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH MARTOV?

LET'S SEE WHAT HAPPENED

The 27th session...

CHECK MATE IN 2 MOVES!

1st move: the Bundists move to remain ■ autonomous organization of Jewish workers. Defeated by 41 votes, they walk out.

2nd move: Congress decides that Iskra is the sole representative of the Party abroad. Now the Economists walk out!

Martov has lost ■ votes!

With his majority, Lenin forms a Central Committee of 3 Iskrists to operate inside Russia. Plekhanov is voted Chairman of the Party Council.

BETTER FEWER,
BUT BETTER!

Next comes the election of editors to the Iskra board (now the central organ of the Party). Everyone expects the re-election of the original six. But Lenin pushes through ■ new editorship of only 3: Plekhanov, Martov and himself ...

the BOLSHEVIK - MENSHEVIK split...

The Iskra debate drags on for 9 bitter sessions, splitting the Party into pro-Lenin Bolsheviks ('majority') and Mensheviks ('minority').

The Congress ends with everyone exhausted, depressed, and only 4 out of 24 items on the agenda decided!

The elements of bourgeois revolution

Except for the very rich, every sector of society is dissatisfied by 1905. The shortage of domestic capital blocks the up-and-coming merchants, Kulaks, industrialists and professionals.

The liberal bourgeoisie organizes a party of parliamentary opposition to Tsarism in 1905: the Constitutional Democrats (known as 'Kadets' from their initials kah-deh)

Narodism revives among the Intelligentsia as the Socialist-Revolutionary Party (known as 'SRs') in 1901 . . . ■ terrorist elite which hopes to lead a single party of workers, peasants and urban petty-bourgeois.

The secret police (Okhrana) planted their agents in all revolutionary parties including the Bolshevik. Yevno Azef, the SR leader, was an Okhrana agent recruited with Minister Plehve's approval. In July 1904 Plehve was killed in ■ SR bomb plot engineered by Azef himself!

AR GOTS (SR)

SRS ARE ONLY LIBERALS ARMED WITH BOMBS! REFORMISTS AND TERRORISTS ARE TWO SIDES OF THE SAME COIN - NEITHER HAVE ANY FAITH IN THE MASSES!

Colonel S.V. Zubatov (1864-1917), chief of Moscow Security Police, organizes police-controlled trade unions designed to keep out revolutionaries. But the workers used these Zubatov 'unions' to organize strikes in 1902-03. The police have to play along — even paying relief money!

OR YOU'LL END UP DEAD!

The Bolshevik Central Committee in St. Petersburg warns Lenin that Gapon is "a shady character" (in fact, Gapon — executed by SRs as a police traitor in 1906.)

... 'Zubatovism' did socialism a great favour by legalizing the working-class movement. By imitating ■ Social-Democratic movement, Zubatov unwittingly helped to create ■ real basis for it. The striking workers have gone far beyond Gapon, towards ■ armed uprising of the people! Our Bolshevik Central Committee in Russia failed to see this in time. And so, Menshevik agitators have taken the lead!

A.V. LUNACHARSKY
(1875-1933) WRITER, PHILOSOPHER, MILITANT
BOLSHEVIK PROPAGANDIST.

Reports are heard on the size and kind of Bolshevik membership (12 thousand, 60% proletarian, 17 Party cells in the Petersburg factories, etc.)

The trouble starts when Lenin and Bogdanov propose a resolution to admit a majority of workers on each local committee . . .

Lenin is booed, attacked, and What Is To Be Done? is quoted against him.

Lenin is outvoted! Why? Because the local committee-men (komitetchiki) are loyal to the concept of an illegal underground Party. But Lenin foresees that the partial success of the revolution may result in a need to work legally, above ground.

Frightened by the strikes, mutinies and uprisings, the Tsar offers the bourgeoisie an Imperial Duma (parliament). But it's only for the rich voting for the rich - and it fools no one!

Then in October the Bolshevik printers in Moscow go on strike (demanding the same pay for punctuation marks ■ for letters!) The strike spreads into ...

The biggest General Strike in labour history!

HOWEVER ... the bourgeois nature of the revolution is clear: The liberal Kadet party, professionals and industrialists support the strike. Employers give their strikers half or full pay ...

... the revolution is limited to the collision between the capitalist forces of production and an outmoded Tsarist administration ... and limited to a minimum programme of democratic goals (a republic, economic reforms, separation of church and state, land reforms, etc.)

"The degree of Russia's economic development (an objective condition), and the degree of class-consciousness and organization of the broad masses of the proletariat (a subjective condition inseparably bound up with the objective condition) make the immediate and complete emancipation of the working class impossible."

Lenin

...Proletarian Democracy:

On Oct. 13th the Soviet (it means 'Council') of Workers' Representatives of St. Petersburg is founded. By whom? By worker-delegates elected on the basis of one for every 500 workers. The Soviet is genuinely proletarian: its Menshevik affiliation is strong. But neither Mensheviks, SRs nor Bolsheviks control it.

EVERY BRANCH OF INDUSTRY,
TRADE AND PUBLIC SERVICE IN 120 TOWNS IS PARALYZED ...

THE SOVIET IS NOW THE
PARLIAMENT OF STRIKING
WORKERS WITH THE POWER TO KEEP THINGS GOING!

TSARISM IS UP AGAINST THE WALL!

THE SOVIET...

The Soviet lasts only 50 days. But it advances the example of workers' democracy far beyond the Paris Commune of 1871.

Strikes are always important because by their withdrawal of labour the workers recognize their power. But a general strike means total withdrawal, which makes it necessary for workers themselves to organize the continuity of society, and this experience provides a first real recognition of workers' self-government.

THE EXILES RETURN AND PREPARE FOR COMBAT UNITY...

Trotsky arrives in Russia disguised as an eye patient and is helped by Krassin.

Krasin and Bogdanov want to negotiate Party unity with the Mensheviks. Lenin agrees to ■ joint unifying 4th Congress.

Trotsky (alias 'Yanovsky') leads the Mensheviks and is appointed Chairman of the Soviet Executive Committee. Martov is the only other Menshevik leader in Russia in 1905.

Lenin is delayed in Stockholm and arrives (disguised as 'Karpov') after the Soviet is set up. With Maxim Gorky and Litvinov, he edits the Bolshevik paper Novaya Zhizn (New Life).

Lenin is unhappy about the progress of the Combat Committee which he now heads: "There's been talk about bombs for over 6 months — yet not one has been made!"

"Go to the youth, gentlemen! That is the only remedy! Otherwise — I give you my word for it — you will be left with 'learned' memoranda, plans, charts, schemes, and magnificent recipes, but without an organization, without a living cause . . ."

LENIN VERSUS TROTSKY ... OPPOSING ➡

Lenin's concept of bourgeois revolution:

... the people (proletariat and peasants) are the decisive force which will topple Tsarism.

Trotsky's concept of permanent revolution:

... if the revolution depends on the proletariat, why shouldn't it keep on going straight into socialism without imposing a bourgeois-democratic limit on itself?

If this democratic revolution succeeds, we can begin to pass to the socialist revolution. We stand for uninterrupted revolution.

But only the proletariat in power, as the leading class, can finally emancipate the peasants through socialism.

VIEWS ON 'BOURGEOIS' REVOLUTION

... a bourgeois revolution, backed by ■ resolute proletariat/peasant alliance, might introduce nationalization of the land ■ ■ basis for industrial progress. But nationalization doesn't mean socialism or even equal land tenure.

The development of capitalism proceeds extremely unevenly in different countries. From this it follows irrefutably that socialism cannot achieve victory simultaneously in all countries. It will achieve victory first in one or several countries, while the others will for some time remain bourgeois or pre-bourgeois.

Trotsky's idea of permanent revolution and Lenin's uninterrupted revolution ■ ■ based on Marx ...

While the democratic petty bourgeois wish to bring the revolution ■ ■ conclusion as quickly as possible ... it is our task to make the revolution permanent, until all more ■ less possessing classes have been displaced from domination, until the proletariat has conquered state power, and the association of the proletarians, not only in one country but in all the dominant countries of the world, has advanced so far that competition among the proletarians of these countries has ceased and that ■ ■ least the decisive productive forces are concentrated in the hands of the proletarians.

Marx, Address to the Communist League, 1850.

Why did the 1905 revolution fail?

When the workers in Moscow and Petersburg continued to strike in November for an 8-hour day, the big employers withdrew their support — and so did liberals, like Milyukov and Struve.

In fact, withdrawal of democratic bourgeois support began on Oct. 30th when the clever Count Witte convinced the Tsar to declare amnesty, a constitution and a Duma (parliament) . . .

1905 has proven 3 things

a transfer of state power to the bourgeoisie cannot happen peacefully, as the Menshevik leaders hoped.

the Menshevik leaders have proven themselves anti-revolutionary . . . but the rank-and-file Menshevik workers and Bolsheviks in the Soviet were united by the armed uprising.

the experience of 1905 proves that the Soviets of Workers' Deputies are organs of direct mass struggle. It was not some theory, not appeals on the part of someone, tactics invented by someone, not party doctrine, but the force of circumstances that led these non-party mass organs to realize the need for ■ uprising . . . However . . . it is also true that Soviets are not sufficient for organizing the immediate fighting force, for organizing an uprising in the narrowest sense of the word.

Lenin attended the 4th and 5th Unity Congresses, only leaving Russia finally in 1907. One moonlit December night, Lenin set off across the frozen Finnish channel 2 miles to a ship headed for Stockholm . . . the ice began cracking – like the RSDLP Party itself!

A QUESTION OF ILLEGAL FINANCES

Full-time Party members got an average worker's wage (30 rubles a month or less). Where did the Party finances come from? From 'angels' — rich sympathizers like 'Auntie' Kalmykova who financed Iskra or the textile tycoon S. T. Morozov, a pro-Bolshevik said to have committed suicide after 1905. Morozov's nephew, N. P. Schmidt (financed Novaya Zhizn) was tortured and murdered by the police, but he left his estate to the Bolsheviks.

Still more finances were urgently needed. So Lenin goes ahead with expropriations, or 'exes', armed robberies of banks.

25 June 1907, Bolshevik agents led by Kamo (S.A. Ter-Petrossian, 1882-1922) raid the Tiflis Treasury and get away with 341,000 rubles.

The Intra-Party Struggle

Bogdanov's claim as ideological defender of 'pure' Bolshevism is backed by his new philosophy, Empiriomonism, based on Mach and neo-Kantianism, already adopted by the revisionist Marxists in Germany and Austria. Fideism attracts Gorky and Lunacharsky.

The first 14-odd years of the 20th century were marked by imperialist, colony-grabbing wars: the Spanish-American War 1898, the Boer War 1899-1902, the Russo-Japanese War 1905, the Italo-Turkish War 1911-12, the Balkan Wars 1912-13, etc.

This un-declared 'cold war' between rival imperialist nations finally becomes red hot in 1914!

Voting for the budget means voting for the war!

Like Plekhanov, socialist leaders in Germany, France, Belgium etc., became 'defensists' and supporters of 'patriotic war'. Others, like Trotsky, Martov, Axelrod, remained faithful to the struggle for international peace.

Gustav Noske (1868-1946) a right-wing German Social-Democrat, later organized the suppression of the German workers' revolution in 1918-21 and his officers murdered the founders of the German Communist Party, Luxemburg and Liebknecht.

Benito Mussolini (1883-1945) was expelled from the Italian Socialist Party for his pro-war views. In 1919 he organized Fascism.

Socialist 2nd International

Rosa Luxemburg (1871-1919) and Karl Liebknecht (1871-1919) were left-wing German Social-Democrats.

Delegates from 25 nations, at the 1907 Stuttgart International Congress and again at the 1912 Basle Congress, had accepted 'Red Rosa's' resolution:

- 1) to prevent war by any means
- 2) or if they could not prevent it, to turn the crisis caused by war into a revolution

Only one leader in the 2nd International lived up to the second pledge — Lenin!

But the 2nd International operated in a peaceful period of European history (1889-1914). Many socialists began thinking that 'revolution' was no longer their immediate business... and they began to interpret Marx "in various ways" (economism, reformism, revisionism etc.)...

...FORGETTING THAT IT'S THE WORLD THEY MUST CHANGE - NOT MARX!

On the consequences of peaceful socialism

The West entered a phase of 'peaceful' preparations for the changes to come. Socialist parties, basically proletarian, were formed everywhere, and learned to use bourgeois parliamentarism and to found their own daily press, their educational institutions, their trade unions and their cooperative societies . . .

The dialectics of history were such that the theoretical victory of Marxism compelled its enemies to disguise themselves as Marxists. Liberalism, rotten within, tried to revive itself in the form of socialist opportunism . . . They cravenly preached 'social peace' (i.e., peace with the slave-owners), renunciation of the class struggle, etc. They had very many adherents among socialist members of parliament, various officials of the working-class movement, and the 'sympathising' intelligentsia.

Lenin, Pravda No.50, 1913.

On the 30th anniversary of Marx's death

WHY IS IMPERIALISM THE 'HIGHEST STAGE' OF CAPITALISM?

Marx studied capitalism in its early stage of free competition and world-market expansion. But, around 1900, the struggle to dominate the world-market increases . . . and 'free enterprise' capitalism turns into monopoly capitalism.

WHAT IS MONOPOLY CAPITALISM?

Essentially, it is a link-up between high finance, big industry and the national government.

More and more, the national economy is directed by the monopoly system which controls large holdings of shares.

Stocks, shares and state loans increase the amount and power of surplus-capital.

This surplus-capital is exported beyond the national borders as investments and loans to 'backward' countries.

A struggle develops between the supra- or multi-national monopolies to control the world-market.

But since the world has already been divided up by the imperial Great Powers, the rival monopolists struggle to re-partition the world — to 'muscle in'.

Therefore . . .

The economic disparity between rival monopolists — and the uneven development of rival capitalist nations — make imperialist wars inevitable . . .

"The European and world war has the clearly defined character of a bourgeois, imperialist and dynastic war. A struggle for markets and for freedom to loot foreign countries, a striving to suppress the revolutionary movement of the proletariat and democracy in the individual countries, a desire to deceive, disunite, and slaughter the proletarians of all countries by setting the wage slaves of one nation against those of another — as to benefit the bourgeoisie — these are the only real content and significance of the war."

BUT THERE IS ONE REAL HOPE...

As capitalism enters its 'highest stage', so too the proletariat approaches its highest stage ... which is REVOLUTION!

Lenin's economic theory of imperialism is a guide to immediate action because it shows that world war and revolution are dialectically related. That's Lenin's great lesson ...

WHAT IS 'REVOLUTIONARY DEFEATISM'?

War identifies the State with Society - Revolution identifies the class war within society...

In time of war, everyone has to identify with the State . . . everyone, no matter from what class, has to defend the State, the 'Fatherland'.

To go against your government ■ 'defeatism' — it is treason against the State!

But is your country in danger? or the ruling class? The ruling class alone controls the State and identifies all of society with its own class interests.

Are the workers defending their own interests, their own state, their own class ■ the front-line trenches?

Workers of all countries can only gain from the defeat of all their 'own' countries.

Defeat makes it easier to turn the world ■ into civil war between hostile classes — and into a world-wide revolution!

LENIN'S UPHILL STRUGGLE 1915-1917

On Sept. 5th, 1915, ■ conference of 38 anti-war socialists meets at Zimmerwald, ■ Swiss village.

Lenin's theses on revolutionary defeatism and civil war gain only left-wing minority support. But the Conference majority doesn't want to break with the International. Trotsky's proposal, "peace without victors or vanquished", is adopted as the Zimmerwald Manifesto by the French, German, Italian and Menshevik majority, May 1915.

For Lenin, pacifism and defence of the Fatherland are equally betrayals of the class struggle.

At the next anti-war conference at Kienthal, April 1916, support for Lenin increases. By 1917 Lenin has attracted ■ growing number of non-Russian followers who will act as members of the 3rd Communist International!

AND THE BOLSHEVIKS ?

On August 8th, 1914, both Menshevik and Bolshevik RSDLP deputies in the Duma abstained from voting for the war budget (which is passed anyway by the rest of the Duma).

But Lenin's defeatism policy seems "hard to swallow" and was not accepted by the Bolshevik Central Committee – including even the loyal Kamenev.

The arrest and Siberian exile of 5 Bolshevik deputies and other leaders disrupts the Party organization. But rank-and-file Bolshevik workers organize ■■ increasing number of anti-war strikes between 1915-17.

In 1915 the first mass 'defeatist' surrenders occur at the front. The sailors of the Baltic fleet mutiny. By 1917 some 15 million workers and peasants are in uniform . . . ■ revolutionary tidal wave!

The bourgeoisie who hate the revolution have been dragged into it by the hair! But the 'moderate' socialists cling to the dogmatic belief that the revolution must be bourgeois. However, the Soviet leaders cannot support a bourgeois government without going against the will of a revolutionary majority, against the fact that a workers' republic already exists!

THE APRIL THESES

... the new government of Milyukov and Co. pursues an imperialist war owing to its capitalist nature. On our part, not the slightest concession to 'revolutionary defensism' is permissible...

2

... the country is passing from the first stage of the revolution — which owing to the insufficient class-consciousness and organization of the proletariat, placed power in the hands of the bourgeoisie — to its second stage, which must place power in the hands of the proletariat and poorest sections of the peasants...

3

No support for the provisional government... ■ end to the impermissible, illusion-breeding 'demand' that this government, a government of capitalists, should cease to be an imperialist government...

4

The masses must be made to see that the Soviets of Worker's Deputies are the only possible form of revolutionary government... our task is (so long as we are in the minority) to present a patient, systematic, and persistent explanation adapted to the practical needs of the masses...

5

... to return to a parliamentary republic from the Soviets of Workers' Deputies would be a retrograde step ...

Abolition of the police, the army and the bureaucracy. The Salaries of all officials ... not to exceed the average wage of a competent worker.

6

Confiscation of all landed estates.

Nationalization of all lands in the country ... The organization of separate Soviets of Deputies of Poor Peasants. The setting up of a model farm on each of the large estates ...

7

The immediate amalgamation of all banks in the country into a single national bank, and the institution of control over it by the Soviet ...

8

It is not our immediate task to 'introduce' socialism, but only to bring social production and the distribution of products at once under the control of the Soviets ...

LENIN'S THESES ARE ... PERPLEXING!

HOW CAN HE SAY THE BOURGEOIS REVOLUTION IS COMPLETED?!

IT HASN'T EVEN STARTED ON THE MINIMUM PROGRAMME ...

WHERE ARE LENIN'S FACTS?

Lenin patiently explains...

1. The passing of state power from one class to another is the first, the principal, the basic sign of ■ revolution, both ■ the strictly scientific and in the practical political meaning of that term.

2. The revolutionary-democratic dictatorship of the proletariat and peasants has already become a reality in the Russian revolution . . . it is a power directly based on revolutionary seizure, on the direct initiative of the people from below, and not on a law enacted by ■ centralized state power.

DO YOU REALLY BELIEVE THAT THIS POWER FROM THE PEOPLE SHOULD BE HANDED OVER TO THE BOURGEOISIE?

AND PATIENTLY EXPLAIN...

In the next few months, Lenin regained total party support, while Bolshevik militants went on "patiently explaining" his ideas to the workers . . .

PARTY MEMBERSHIP WENT UP FROM 24,000 IN FEBRUARY TO 240,000 BY JULY!

'REVOLUTIONARY
DEFENSISM'

THE SLOGAN OF PETTY BOURGEOIS SOCIALISM!

The provisional government is under pressure from the Allies to continue the war. With the support of 'defensist' SR and Menshevik leaders in the Soviet, Kerensky orders a Russian offensive in Galicia, June 16th.

By 1917 the army is disintegrating (with nearly 1 million dead or wounded) and between June-October, 2 million soldiers desert . . .

. . . these deserters returning to their villages quicken the decline of SR support among the peasants.

Tsereteli, SR and other Mensheviks organize a mass demonstration to prove that Bolshevism has no popular support. But the 400,000 workers who march through Petrograd, June 18, 1918, come out for Bolshevism! Maxim Gorky reports a complete triumph for Bolshevism in Novaya Zhizn.

...MEANWHILE, KEEP EXPLAINING...

What is required of us is the ability to explain to the masses that the social and political character of the war is determined not by the 'good will' of individuals or groups, or even of nations, but by the position of the class which conducts the war, by the class policy of which the war is a continuation by the ties of capital, which is the dominant economic force in modern society, by the imperialist character of modern capitalism, by Russia's dependence in finance, banking and diplomacy upon Britain, France, and so on. To explain this skilfully in a way the people would understand is not easy . . .

NONE OF US WOULD BE ABLE TO DO IT AT ONCE WITHOUT COMMITTING ERRORS!

THE JULY DAYS...

In April, Lenin had to overcome the reluctant 'Old Bolsheviks'. But by July he faces the revolutionary impatience of the 'leftists'. Leaders of the Bolshevik Military Organization, Kronstadt sailors and the Petrograd machine-gun regiment want an immediate armed uprising . . .

. . . but Lenin says 'Not yet!'

THE PEOPLE MUST CONVINCE THEMSELVES THAT THERE ARE NO ALTERNATIVES TO BOLSHEVIK POLICY... WE DON'T WANT A BLANQUIST PUTSCH!

On July 4th another half-million demonstrators are in the streets, believing that SR-Menshevik leaders of the Soviet can be forced to take power . . .

TAKE POWER, YOU SONOFABITCH, WHEN IT'S GIVEN TO YOU!

WE RESOLUTELY REFUSE TO DO SO!

THE LAST THING CHERNOV & CO. WANT IS THE SOVIET POWER WHICH THE MASSES ARE TRYING TO HAND THEM!

Once the July Movement begins, the Bolsheviks cannot refuse to join it. "Better to suffer defeat with the masses than remain neutral!"

Until then, Lenin had argued that the left parties should agree to an immediate peaceful seizure of power by the Soviets while there was still time.

But on 1 and 4 July, the SR-Menshevik leadership of the Soviet virtually handed over power to the counter-revolution by summoning Cossacks to Petrograd, disarming and disbanding revolutionary regiments and workers, approving and tolerating acts of violence against Bolsheviks, introducing the death penalty at the front, etc.

The Pravda offices are wrecked, hundreds of Bolsheviks arrested, including Kamenev and Trotsky. Lenin is accused in the press of being a 'German agent'. Lenin hides out in the Razliv marshes where he continues writing . . .

THE OVERTHROW OF THE
BOURGEOISIE CAN BE ACHIEVED
ONLY BY THE PROLETARIAT
BECOMING THE RULING
CLASS*...

* this is the essence of Lenin's book, State and Revolution, and it argues, as Marx did, for the political rule of the proletariat

Can the proletariat develop its political independence?

Capitalism began to ripen within feudal society, hundreds of years ago. The merchants, who exchanged commodities, grew towards independence as a capitalist class in opposition to a landowning feudal class.

But the merchants had something to work from - an autonomous base in the new, expanding cities of Europe. Here they were able to establish the material, technical and cultural foundations for the independence of their class.

But the proletariat - the mass of commodity producers - remained an oppressed, exploited class. Why? Because the bourgeoisie monopolized the means of production and exchange and also education. Capitalists don't only have money - they have the means to create administrative elites. Administration is the key to controlling the means of control - without that, the proletariat remains a backward class in a highly developed society.

In time, the working class develops defensive organs - such as trade unions. But the collapse, in 1914, of the German SDP labour party was proof that it could not deal with a real state crisis - because it was not prepared for organizing all of society, for administering it.

Socialism does not simply 'grow out' of capitalism. To achieve socialism, a revolutionary proletarian class must oppose capitalism, just as the bourgeoisie once opposed feudalism by managing itself as an independent class.

The proletariat can develop its own administration, its own independent socialist economy only if it achieves political rule. This is what Marx meant by the rallying slogan, the "dictatorship of the proletariat".

Kerensky, now Prime Minister of the Provisional Government, toys with a 'Napoleonic' plot to seize Petrograd.

Boris Savinkov, a leading SR militant and Governor-General of Petrograd is in league with Kerensky and Kornilov.

General L.G. Kornilov, appointed Supreme Commander by Kerensky, heads the 'Putsch' against the Petrograd Soviet, August 27-30.

At the last minute Kerensky gets cold feet and abandons the plot. Kornilov's military uprising was defeated in a few days by the workers and soldiers of the Petrograd Soviet — thanks to the assistance of the Bolshevik party . . . which was still being suppressed and persecuted by the government!

After Kornilov's defeat, Lenin tries once to reach agreement with the SR- Menshevik leaders in the hope of setting up a workers' democracy peacefully.

But they reject Lenin's offer and still support Kerensky's government.

Meanwhile the mass popular shift towards Bolshevism increases . . .

In Moscow, the Menshevik and SR leaders of the City Duma organized a 'White Guard' which ruthlessly massacres workers. It took six days of bitter street-fighting before the Bolsheviks win, on Nov. 2.

The first Socialist government in the world!

The Congress elects a new Executive of the All-Russia Soviets consisting of 102 members: 62 Bolsheviks, the rest Mensheviks, SRs and others. The first Soviet of People's Commissars was composed solely of 15 Bolsheviks with Lenin as Chairman.

On the morning of the 26th the Soviet abolishes the private ownership of land, but affirms the peasant's right to occupy and work his new holding.

THE BOLSHEVIKS HAVE STOLEN OUR PROGRAMME!

V.P. Milyutin, Commissar of Agriculture.

...BUT YOU ONLY TALKED ABOUT IT. WE'LL PUT IT INTO PRACTICE!

DOESN'T THIS BREAK WITH OUR OWN PROGRAMME OF LAND NATIONALIZATION?

Chernov, Kerensky's ex-Minister of Agriculture.

Will the peasantry act in the spirit of our programme or in that of the SRs? It is of little importance: the main thing is for them to have the firm assurance that there will be no more landlords and that they can set about organizing their own lives.

THE REAL PROBLEM IS - WILL WE BE LEFT IN PEACE TO DEVELOP SOCIALISM?

The first steps towards a direct producers' democracy, according to Lenin, do not seem so extreme today. He did not contemplate the total nationalization of heavy industry, but rather an effective workers' control and the growing participation of the socialist state in a mixed economy in which capitalists would retain some place.

V.A. ANTONOV OVSEYENKO

THE BREST-LITOVSK PEACE TREATY

October 27th Lenin issues an appeal on radio calling for an immediate armistice. But in the December peace talks, the Germans demand 215 thousand square kilometres of territory (which contain 20 million people!) and 3,000 million gold rubles!

OUR AIM SHOULD BE A REVOLUTIONARY WAR AGAINST GERMAN IMPERIALISM!

Bukharin leads a strong 'left' opposition to peace which believes that continued war will encourage the outbreak of a workers' revolution in Germany.

BUT SUPPOSE THE GERMAN REVOLUTION DOESN'T OCCUR SOON? WE'LL END UP IN EVEN WORSE SHAPE!

To help the socialist revolution on an international scale by accepting the possibility of defeat of that revolution in one's own country is . . . unwise and un-Marxist!

Lenin was in the minority again! But his realism proved only too correct! The Germans advance on Feb. 18th, occupy the Ukraine and threaten Petrograd itself.

Russia was forced to accept peace, March 3rd 1918, but the German occupation lasted another 9 months till November. Meanwhile 'White' counter-revolutionary armies were created with German help in the Ukraine, the Don and Kuban areas. So begins the White counter-revolution which it will take 3 years to defeat!

...THE BOLSHEVIKS ARE NOT A
LEGAL, DEMOCRATIC

...SO WHAT'S WRONG WITH
STRUGGLING AGAINST THEM?

In June 1918 Menshevik leaders proclaim an independent republic in Georgia — and call in German and Turkish troops "to defend its borders".

IF YOU HAVE THE SUPPORT OF
THE PEOPLE... WHY DO YOU
NEED THE GERMANS AND WHITE
TSARIST GENERALS?

Some facts about the Bolshevik 'seizure of power'...

Anti-Bolshevik propaganda has always claimed that Lenin merely 'seized power', that October was a coup d'état, ■ conspiracy led by an undemocratic minority, etc. But the facts are that, throughout the summer of 1917 and after, popular support was shifting rapidly towards Bolshevism, and this was expressed democratically in the urban and Soviet elections across Russia.

The general elections to the new Constituent Assembly gave these results on December 30, 1918:

Kadets and other bourgeois parties	4,600,000 (13%)
SRs	20,900,000 (58%)
Mensheviks	1,700,000 ( 4%)
Bolsheviks	9,023,963 (25%)

The majority had, in fact, voted for ■ revolutionary democracy. But what did the main parties really stand for, by 1918?

Kadets

The party of the big bourgeoisie, even before October, was in favour of the military suppression of the Soviets, and by December had gone over to the 'White' pro-monarchist officers.

SRs

The party was split into opposed, irreconcilable factions. But it presented itself in the elections ■ the single "party of the peasants". The Right SRs, under Kerensky, Chernov, etc.

had already engaged in anti-Soviet conspiracies. The Left SRs decided to support the October revolution only after its success. For a time, Left SRs participated in the government ■

150 commissars and Soviet executives. But they attempted to seize power in July-August, 1918.

Mensheviks

Half their vote came from the nationalist, right-wing base in the Caucasus which was non-proletarian. However, at the Menshevik Central Committee Congress, October 17-21, 1918, the leadership recognized that the Bolshevik revolution had been both necessary and popularly supported!

Bolsheviks

Their vote represents the crucial nerve centre of the revolution – the proletariat and over half the army and navy (i.e. peasants in uniform).

ONLY A LUNATIC CAN IMAGINE THAT THE KADET, MENSHEVIK OR SR LEADERS WERE "DEMOCRATIC"...

... AND WE WEREN'T LUNATIC ENOUGH TO PLACE THE FATE OF THE REVOLUTION IN THE HANDS OF THE ASSEMBLY!

ON JAN. 18th 1918, SOVIET WORKERS AND SOLDIERS DISSOLVE THE ASSEMBLY... WITHOUT FUSS OR SENSATION.

Sverdlov President of the All-Russia Soviet Executive.

Bukharin head of the Moscow Regional Bureau.

'The civil war...and the 'undemocratic democrats'

Gorky's own words in Novaya Zhizn, Oct. 28, 1917. But, like Plekhanov, he never engaged in hostile actions against Bolshevism. During the Civil War, Gorky rallied again to the support of the Soviet.

Only a few of the many anti-Bolshevik leaders. These people began as liberals, one-time Marxists, veteran Narodniks, terrorists, founders of the SR Party and Mensheviks. They all supported a counter-revolutionary dictatorship backed by British, US and French military intervention and conspired actively with 'White' generals to overthrow the Soviet.

The 'civil war' was, in fact, a class war which in 3½ years left the entire country in ruins. Middle class resistance to the Soviets came from petty-bourgeois socialists, technicians, officials and military staff.

Why didn't the socialists cooperate with the proletarian revolution — and save Russia from calamity?

- 1 The SR-Menshevik ideologists wanted a bourgeois capitalist republic in which they would constitute the administrative elite.
- 2 Mistakenly, they believed that the Bolsheviks had merely 'seized power' which they could 'seize back'.
- 3 They could not believe that the proletariat, a class with 'no history', no experience of government, was the legitimate, democratic force of the revolution.

THE LEADING 'WHITE' GENERALS, 1918-1920

The 'White' counter-revolution, from the start, had to rely on the non-democratic support of the old Tsarist general staff.

Denikin, Commander-in-Chief of all South Russia, was appointed Dictator of Russia by a joint Allied and White conference at Jassy, Rumania, Nov. 1918. Kolchak was proclaimed Supreme Ruler by an Allied-supported White government in Omsk, Siberia, Dec. 1918. Dutov led a Cossack army in the South Urals; and Generals Alexeyev, Krasnov and Kornilov led other Cossacks in the Ukraine, Don and Kuban regions. Semyonov led White forces on the Manchuria border and supported Japanese intervention. Yudenich prepared an attack in 1919 on Petrograd with British and Finnish support. Wrangel organized the last White army in the Crimea, 1920.

THE ALLIED INTERVENTION

Churchill, British Secretary of War in 1918, was the chief instigator of Allied military intervention. British Prime Minister Lloyd George was nervous that Bolshevism might 'infect' British workers. Clemenceau, French War Minister, wanted a quick military victory over Bolshevism. US President Wilson preferred diplomacy and blockades. Czech troops were promised by Benes in exchange for Allied recognition of Czechoslovakia's independence. Pilsudski, military dictator of Poland, invaded Russia with French help in 1920.

IN THE 'CIVIL WAR'...

The Allies refused to recognize the Brest-Litovsk Treaty and preferred to support a 'White' government which would continue the war. Moreover, the Bolsheviks struck a mortal blow against Allied imperialism when, on Jan. 28, 1918, they cancelled Russia's national debt (80,000,000,000 gold rubles or two-thirds the total national wealth!) which meant no repayment of foreign loans!

The Third Communist International

Lenin expected that the October revolution would act as a 'fuse', a 'pilot-light' for revolutions in other, ~~more~~ advanced countries of the world. Russia was the pioneer — but she needed the help of a world socialist revolution to overcome the gigantic difficulties caused by the Civil War.

...BUT NO OTHER COUNTRY
MANAGED TO REPEAT
RUSSIA'S PROLETARIAN VICTORY!

The 3rd Communist International established March 2-6, 1919, during the darkest days of the Civil War. Its members didn't do very well! Bela Kun led the Hungarian Soviet Republic which lasted March-August 1919. Luxemburg and Liebknecht were murdered January 1919 during the Berlin workers' uprising. Eisner, the socialist premier of Bavaria's 'Red Republic', 1918-19, was assassinated. Noske's 'White' army suppressed the soviets in Bavaria, Bremen, Kiel and Berlin. In Italy, Gramsci's attempt to create a socialist 'United Front' against Fascism failed. Dimitrov, Bulgarian Communist leader, escaped the savage destruction of the Party in 1923. DeLeon, USA Socialist Party leader, founded the Industrial Workers of the World (IWW) in 1905. The IWW, called 'Wobblies' because of their anti-war stand, were brutally persecuted in 1919.

The international revolutionary movement achieved ■ thing – it helped to weaken and defeat the intervention of the capitalist countries against Soviet Russia.

THE RED ARMY...

Soviet Russia, without help 'from the outside', had to create a Red Army able to combat the combined forces of the Whites and Allied interventionists.

IN 1917, A REGULAR ARMY HAD CEASED TO EXIST!

COMMANDERS HAD TO BE FOUND AMONG INEXPERIENCED COMMUNIST WORKERS AND SOLDIERS!

WE COULDN'T HAVE FORMED AN ARMY OF A MILLION MEN BY 1919... IF THE MASSES HADN'T SUPPORTED US!

M. TUKHACHEVSKY

S. M. BUDYONNY
another N.C.O. who commanded the Red cavalry (made up in 1919 of Cossacks who began rallying to Bolshevism.)

The young Soviet Republic paid an enormous price for its victory. Large numbers of its best, most politically conscious workers perished in the fighting, the people were exhausted, the country in ruins. In this period of total war, the danger of economic collapse became greater than military defeat.

TRUE, WE WON...
BUT THE REVOLUTION
WAS bled white
BY THE WHITES!

TROTSKY

War communism...

By 1919, the Allied blockade of Russia in total — nothing can get in or out. The Whites occupy the ports, 60% of railways and the key regions of industrial and grain production. Millions are threatened with starvation! War Communism, in the spring of 1918, is designed to meet this emergency in two ways:

1. increasing nationalization of industry (at much faster pace than Lenin believes wise)
2. encouraging poor peasants to assist the proletariat in confiscating grain hoarded by better-off Kulaks.

Lenin said: "In conditions of crisis, shortage, loss of cattle, the peasant must give his produce on credit to the Soviet power for the sake of a large-scale industry which has not yet given him a thing!"

THE SPECTRE OF FAMINE AND MUTINY

But 11 years is a long time to test the patience of workers and peasants literally dying of hunger! British secret service agents, Menshevik and SR agitators provoke strikes in 1919. Serious peasant uprisings occur in 1920-21. One of these was led by Makhno in the Ukraine. Makhno was a partisan leader who fought the Whites, 1918-20, and tried to set up an independent anarchist federation in the Gulyai-Polye region. His refusal to merge with the Red Army led to his defeat in August 1921.

The Kronstadt sailors mutiny...

The Kronstadt Soviet, a strong island fortress with 15,000 men, demanded immediate reforms of War Communism. Their revolt, March 5-18, 1921, reflects the peasant origins of the Kronstadt sailors and the influence of SR and anarchist agitators. Action had to be immediate, before the ice melted and the sailors could move their battleships against Petrograd. The situation is settled by cannons and troops brought over the ice by Tukhachevsky.

AN IMMEDIATE STOP TO GRAIN REQUISITIONS...

... THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A FREE MARKET FOR PEASANTS!

while Lenin tries to meet the demands of the peasants...

If the sailors had waited, most of their 'peasant demands' would have been satisfied by the N.E.P. — New Economic Policy — which Lenin put forward at the Tenth Congress of the Communist Party, 8-16 March, 1921.

'It was the war and the ruin that forced us into 'War Communism'. It was not, and could not be, a policy that corresponded to the economic tasks of the proletariat. It was a makeshift. The correct policy of the proletariat exercising its dictatorship in a small-peasant country is to obtain grain in exchange for the manufactured goods the peasant needs.

We know that so long as there is revolution in other countries, only agreement with the peasantry can save the socialist revolution in Russia.'

The N.E.P. put a stop to grain requisitions. It instituted free trade in grain, concessions to foreign capitalists, tolerance towards small traders, artisans and even small-scale industries.

N.E.P. or the 'peasant Brest-Litovsk'...

The N.E.P. was, in Lenin's words, the economic equivalent of the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty . . . and it was opposed by the 'Left Communists' who had also resisted peace in 1918. In 1921, they defended the radical measures of War Communism, just as in 1918 they had argued for an all-out revolutionary war.

SHLIAPNIKOV, COMMISSAR OF LABOUR

KOLLONTAI

... CONTINUE THE OFFENSIVE AGAINST CAPITAL WITH MORE NATIONALIZATION - MORE EXPROPRIATION!

WE OPPOSE ANY RE-INTRODUCTION OF CAPITALIST METHODS OF PRODUCTION!

TRADE UNIONS SHOULD ASSUME THE DIRECT ECONOMIC MANAGEMENT OF PRODUCTION!

The N.E.P., which Lenin defined as 'State Capitalism', was not a return to 'capitalism'. Lenin had always envisaged the temporary co-existence of private property and communist property. " . . . you must first attempt to build small bridges which shall lead a land of small peasant holdings through State Capitalism to Socialism. Otherwise you will never lead tens of millions of people to Communism."

Lenin was bitterly criticized for introducing factory piece-work and the assembly-line system known as 'Taylorism' (the scientific management of industry devised by the U.S. engineer F.W. Taylor and used by Ford.)

Output of an assembly-line worker being studied in Gastyev's Bio-Mechanic Laboratory, circa 1920.

"Lenin wants to turn people into machines . . ."

Exactly the ~~same~~ accusation, made by Axelrod back in 1903, reveals the intellectual's fear of factory discipline and the underestimation of industrial labour as the basic force of social progress.

LENIN'S LAST STRUGGLE

Weakened by the 1918 assassination attempt, overworked, afflicted with constant migraines, Lenin's health began to decline. In May, 1922, he suffers a stroke which leaves him partly paralyzed and unable to speak or write. By sheer will power, he managed to return to work in October.

LIKE A CHILD, VLADIMIR ILYICH HAD TO RE-
LEARN HOW TO ARTICULATE SOUNDS AND WRITE WITH

WE BADLY NEED
A CULTURAL REVOLUTION!

In his last writings, again and again, Lenin hammers home the need for mass education ■ the basis for popular self-administration. For this reason, Lenin emphasized the importance of workers' and peasants' cooperatives as schools of self-management.

"Strictly speaking, there is 'only' ■ thing ■ have left to do and that is ■ make our people so 'enlightened' that they understand all the advantages of everybody participating in the work of the cooperatives, and organize this participation. 'Only' that. There are now no other devices needed to advance socialism. But to achieve this 'only', there must be ■ veritable revolution – the entire people must go through a period of cultural development."

LENIN, ON COOPERATION, 4-6 January 1923.

Lenin was aware that BUREAUCRACY was a danger in a rural, backward workers' state:

"We shall be fighting the evils of bureaucracy for many years to come, and whoever thinks otherwise is playing demagogue and cheating, because overcoming the evils of bureaucracy requires hundreds of measures, wholesale literacy, culture and participation . . ."

Lenin also demanded that steps be taken to protect non-Russians in the Soviet Union from any bullying by "Great-Russian chauvinists":

" . . . that really Russian man, the Great-Russian chauvinist, is in substance a rascal and a tyrant, such as the typical Russian bureaucrat is. There is no doubt that the infinitesimal percentage of Soviet or sovietized workers will drown in that tide of chauvinistic Great-Russian riffraff like a fly in milk . . ."

Lenin's hopes for international revolution, after 1919, were focussed on the colonized nations of the 'Third World', especially Eastern ones with predominantly peasant populations.

Lenin's 'Last Testament'...

When Lenin died, 21 January 1924, the Russian revolution lost its greatest Marxist...

Lenin has left a record of his thoughts on the men capable of succeeding him. He dictated this 'Testament' on 25 December 1922 and 4 January 1923.

Comrade Stalin, having become General Secretary, has concentrated enormous power in his hands, and I am not sure he always knows how to use that power with sufficient caution... Stalin is too rude, and this fault, entirely supportable in relation to Communists, becomes insupportable in the office of General Secretary. Therefore I propose to the comrades to find a way to remove Stalin from that position and appoint to it another man who in all respects differs from Stalin only in superiority — namely, more patient, more loyal, more polite, and more attentive to comrades, less capricious, etc.

... Comrade Trotsky ... is distinguished not only by his exceptional ability — personally, he is, to be sure, the most able man in the present Central Committee — but also by his too far-reaching self-confidence and a disposition to be far too much attracted by the purely administrative side of affairs.

Bukharin ... may be considered the favourite of the whole Party. But his theoretical views can only with the greatest reservations be regarded as fully Marxist, for there is something scholastic in him. (He never has learned, and I think never fully understood, the dialectic.)

... the October episode of Zinoviev and Kamenev was not, of course, accidental, but it ought as little to be used against them as the 'non-Bolshevism' of Trotsky.

A 'MONUMENT' FOR LENIN?

COMRADE LENIN WAS NOT AFRAID OF ACKNOWLEDGING HIS MISTAKES

BAH! MONUMENTS ONLY ATTRACT PIGEONS!

Stalin speaking at Lenin's 50th Birthday celebration, Moscow, 23 April 1920.

Cold War hostility towards Russia and the errors of Stalinism have built up a false image of Lenin. Readers who want to make up their own minds, without prejudice, should consider the following assessment of Lenin very carefully:

"When he was still alive, Lenin was not regarded as a source of authority – even if he possessed considerable personal authority. The latter derived from the rational force of the arguments with which he defended his opinions and political choices; from the prestige he had won by his past successes . . . nor was his authority ever considered indisputable. On the contrary, he always encountered disagreement, resistance or opposition even within the ruling group of the Bolshevik Party. He was the recognized 'head' of the Party, but it was permissible to disagree with him and, when it was thought necessary, other comrades were allowed and even expected to oppose his will. He was 'head' because he managed to convince and draw into struggle even wavering and reluctant people, not because he had the right to reject or silence opponents. Convinced of the need for firm Party discipline, he never tried to place his opponents under a discipline to which he was not himself subject. Nor did he seek to obtain within the Party a formal pre-eminence which would enable him to escape the control of the majority in any sphere of decisions."

BOOKS ON LENIN

Readers who wish to consult other books on Lenin and the Russian revolution should be warned. There are no impartial studies of Lenin! It is never true (especially in this area of history) that 'facts speak for themselves'. Facts are always interpreted, and readers should be on their guard.

E.H. Carr, THE BOLSHEVIK REVOLUTION (3 volumes), Penguin, London/MacMillan, New York. A standard political history.

Tony Cliff, LENIN (2 volumes and the 3rd due May, 1978), Pluto Press, London/Urizen, New York. Less a biography than a political study of Lenin as Party builder and leader. Excellent, full of facts and figures.

Isaac Deutscher, LENIN'S CHILDHOOD, Oxford University Press. Readers might also consult Deutscher's standard biography of Trotsky.

Ernest Fischer and F. Marek, LENIN IN HIS OWN WORDS, Allen Lane, London/Seabury Press, New York. Short, very useful and should be read with Fischer's MARX IN HIS OWN WORDS.

Louis Fischer, THE LIFE OF LENIN, Harper and Row, New York. A standard biography.

Maxim Gorky, GORKY AND LENIN. LETTERS, REMINISCENCES, ARTICLES, Central Books, London.

N.S. Krupskaya, MEMORIES OF LENIN, Lawrence and Wishart, London/International Publishing Co., New York.

Moshe Lewin, LENIN'S LAST STRUGGLE, Pluto Press, London. Lenin's final struggle against rising bureaucracy and Stalin's power.

Georg Lukacs, LENIN, New Left Books, London. Short, packed with important ideas – but difficult.

A.V. Lunacharsky, REVOLUTIONARY SILHOUETTES, Central Books, London.

M.N. Pokrovskii, RUSSIA IN WORLD HISTORY, University of Michigan Press. A basic work by a Bolshevik scholar.

John Reed, TEN DAYS THAT SHOOK THE WORLD, Penguin, London/International Publishing Co., New York. Vivid eye-witness account by an American journalist. A classic.

Victor Serge, YEAR ONE OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION, Allen Lane, London. Essential reading – includes excellent notes. Serge's MEMOIRS OF A REVOLUTIONARY, Oxford U.P., is also valuable, as well as other works by this author.

M.N. Sukhanov, THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION: A PERSONAL RECORD, Methuen, London. Interesting account by a Menshevik participant.

Leon Trotsky, HISTORY OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION, Pluto Press, London/University of Michigan Press. Also Trotsky's 1905, Penguin, London. Indispensable books, although Trotsky underplays the role of the Bolshevik Party.

Franco Venturi, ROOTS OF REVOLUTION, Grosset and Dunlap, New York. Valuable work on the Russian revolutionary movement from 1850 to 1881.

Edmund Wilson, TO THE FINLAND STATION, Doubleday, New York/MacMillan. Sympathetic account of the radical tradition in European political thought, with chapters on Marx, Lassalle, Lenin, etc.

B.D. Wolfe, THREE WHO MADE A REVOLUTION, Penguin, London/Dial, New York. Combined biographies of Lenin, Trotsky and Stalin, ending on the eve of 1917. Ultimately hostile to Lenin – but far better than David Shub's LENIN (Penguin) or Robert Conquest's recent LENIN (Fontana).

BOOKS BY LENIN

LENIN SHOULD BE STUDIED...
IN THE SAME WAY AS HE STUDIED MARX!

GEORG LUKACS

Nearly everything Lenin wrote was directed towards party practice. His writings refer to specific events, to changing situations which affected the development of a revolutionary Marxist party. That's why it is so important, when passages from Lenin are quoted out of context, to know when and why they were originally written.

Lenin is never 'purely' theoretical. Nevertheless, he is, as Lukacs says, "the greatest thinker to have been produced by the revolutionary working-class movement since Marx".

Lenin's COMPLETE WORKS in 45 volumes are available from Lawrence and Wishart, London and International Publishers Co., New York. Selected Works in 1 or 3 volumes and a variety of writings in pamphlets are published by Progress Publishers, Moscow. The latter are low-priced and readily available.

FOR BEGINNERS

Tsars and peasants, Bloody Sunday and War Communism, Rasputin and Kerensky, Narodniks and Bolsheviks, exiles and commissars... With a cast of thousands, Lenin for Beginners brings one of the major revolutionary figures of this century within any reader's grasp.

This zany documentary comic strip is the perfect introduction to Lenin's writings and a wonderful take-off point for anybody who wants to plunge into the tumultuous history of the Russian Revolution.

Like its companion volume, Marx for Beginners, it's accurate, understandable, and very, very funny.
